AFFAIRS OF THE PRAILWAYS.

Grievances of the Monon. Said one of the officials under the new management of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago road: "I have of late been giving the affairs of the Monon, more especially its passenger service, a careful investigation, and I find that our competitors are disposed to keep the Monon under their thumb, and the late management permitted them to do so for at least ten months past." This official is very conservative in his ideas of rate matters, but he thought that a weak line should have something to say as to what rates should be, and what shall be the character of the tickets sold, and as soon as the Monon was placed in a physical condition that would leave no room for an unfavorable comparison with competitors, he should vote in favor of its taking a more decided stand on some questions. For instance, he said that the Monon is desirous of putting on 2,000-mile tickets at 2 cents a mile, but the Pennsylvania objects, and says, "if you do, we will open a rate-war on you which will annihilate the road practically." Yet on portions of the systems of which E. A. Ford is general passenger agent, two-thou-sand-mile tickets are sold at $40, or 2 cents a mile. Again, there are to be several harvest excursions in the next few months.

The Pennsylvania says to the Monon, "You shall not sell harvest excursion tickets from Louisville or Indianapolis via Chicago; if you do, we will make a rate-war on you which will cut your revenue to the quick;" yet Mr. Ford makes harvest excursion rates over the Vandalia, of which he is general passenger agent, and the Big Four over its St. Louis division. The official added that he was tired of this hold-ing the Monon down, and thus allowing business which was legitimate to the Monon to drift away in other directions, and in sixty days from now, when the road was in good shape, he would come out strongly in favor of cutting loose from the dictation of the general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, even if it resulted in a square fight, and he was satisfied that, in the end, when the traveling public understood the situation, the Monon would be Spread of the Rate-Cutting War. Until quite recently the lines in the Central Traffic Association have been commended for the wisdom they have shown in steering clear of rate wars, which have been so prevalent with the Western and Northwestern lines, but in the last ten days rates east bound have been shaky; the trouble commencing in the reduction of rates on oats, and now it spreads to oil-cake and provisions. On Monday next the rate on provisions will be reduced 5 cents per 100 pounds, Chicago to the seaboard, and from other points in the usual proportions, and indications are that these rates are to prevail through the season. In speaking of this unexpected action on the part of the Central Traffic Association, the Chicago Evening Journal says:

The reduction is the most sweeping in years i the Central Traffic Association. They were made, mainly, to meet manipulated rates alleged against some of the lines, and partly on account of the recent reductions in lake-and-rail rates. The reductions are especially significant as they were made in advance of the trunk-line meeting, which was to take up the matter of the lake lines making lower rates than their agreed differentials. It shows that not only do the rail lines be-lieve some of their competitors are slicing off a liberal share of the tariff by manipulations, but especially it is a practical notice to the trunk lines that the Central Traffic lines are tired of what officials of the latter organization call the domineering ways of the former. The fact is brought prominently forward that if the trunk lines had held the lake lines up to agreed rates, the pres-ent demoralization among the Central Traffic lines would not have occurred. The reduction, which takes effect on Monday next, will make the rate from In-dianapolis to New York on oats and oil cake 1812 cents per 100 porinds, and on provisions 25 cents per 100 pounds, the present rate on provisions being 30 cents per 100

The Erie in Indianapolis.

There is official authority for stating that Indianapolis is to be made one of the Western terminals of the Erie system through a trackage arrangement which it has made for working over the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton road. Its first effort will be directed to improving the freight service, both in and out-bound. Solid trains will be put on to run through as fast freight, and it is expected that equally as good time will be made by the Erie lines as is made by any other lines operating at this point. Very favorable arrangements have been made by the Erie in working west of here over the Vandalia and the Indianapolis, Decatur & Western, and everything points to largely increasing the freight traffic of this trunk line in this and territory reached by the roads which will work with it. The freight department is to be represented by wide-awake men, and every facility afforded which is given by their competitors in handling business. What steps the passenger department will of prices for rents. take to improve their business are definitely settled upon, but a time-schedule will be arranged by which certain trains of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Indianapolis road will make close connections at Hamilton with the Erie's fast trains.

Personal, Local and General Notes. The Lake Shore passenger department announces that no Sunday excursions will be run on its lines this season S. R. Callaway, president of the Toledo, St. Louis & Cincinnati road, has gone to New York to be absent ten days. W. N. Greene, general manager of the Big Four lines, was in the city yesterday, and left in the afternoon for Chicago.

The Toledo, Columbus & Cincinnati has completed the survey for its Findlay extension, and will begin grading within thirty There is to be a meeting of general passenger agents in Cincinnati to day, to fix rates for the annual meeting of the Knights of Pythias. Within a few days several conductors will be dismissed from an Indianapolis line which heretofore has been very considerate with its passenger men. The reported building of an extension of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, from Preston to Cleveland, O., is officially denied. No further extension is contemplated. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen are arranging for a monster picnic at Blue River Park, on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Indianapolis road, Sunday, June 1. Grand Chief Arthur and Channeev M.

Denew are to be present at the meeting of the railroad brotherhoods which is to be held in New Haven, Conn., on Sunday next. The passenger and freight men whose headquarters are at Cleveland. O., are forming a railroad men's club. They will lease a hall and fit it up in an attractive

One move in advance has been made by the Western roads. They have agreed to stop making secret rates, a thing which most of them have been doing for the last ninety days.

The Pennsylvania Company will shorten the running time of its trains between Cincinnati and Chicago to meet the time made between those points by the Big Four—eight and one-half hours.

F. M. Bushong, ticket agent for the Pennsylvania Company at Steubenville, has been appointed traveling passenger agent of the company, with headquarters at Detroit, to take effect June 1. The officials of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio are this week making an inspection of the line, the shops, etc. The company has recently contracted for 10,000 tons of steel rails for this road.

Two telegraph stations will be opened on the St. Joe extension of the Vandalia to-General Manager Williams and General Freight Agent Hibbard, of the Vandalia, are on the extension to-day, arranging for opening it for business.

The St. Louis car-works are delivering new cars to the Big Four at the rate of 100 a week. These cars are painted yellow and are provided with the Janney coupler and air-brakes, and are a superior car in every respect.

General Passenger Agent Falkenbach, of the Columbus & Hocking Valley road, will retire on June 1. W. H. Fisher is prominently mentioned for the position. Mr. Fisher was educated under Superintendent Rockwell, who well understands his ability as a passenger man.

Vice-president Goddard, of the A. T. & F., wishes that it should be distinctly understood that his resignation is not due to any quarrel with Traffic Manager Hauley. He says that his relations with Mr.

Hanley are of the pleasantest nature. William Swanston, superintendent of motive power of the eastern division of the Pennsylvania lines, left yesterday for the East, where he goes to purchase fifteen thousand dollars' worth of new machinery for the company's shops at this point.

The road-bed of all the Indianapolis lines are now becoming solid, and admit of making up lost time. Trains now seldom arrive at the Union Station late. The last winter was so open that it was hard on tracks, and it has been no small job to put them in shape again.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton has received from the Schenectady locomotive-works one of the five large engines these works are to build for the road in the next sixty days. Another is to arrive this month. One will be put on to the Indianapolis division as soon as it is properly limbered up.

The Indianapolis, Decatur & Western will, on Sunday next, make a change in the running time of two of its express trains, so that connection can be made with the trains of the Big Four. Under the change the speed of these trains between Indianapolis and Decatur, with stops taken out, will be fully forty-eight miles an hour.

The Mackey lines continue to show in creased earnings weekly. In the second week of May the Chicago & Eastern Illi-nois shows an increase of $12,939.91; the Evansville & Terre Haute an increase of $1,051.28; the Evansville & Indianapolis, $794.87; the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis, $2,807.21, and the Peoria, Decatur & Western, $761.89.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the C., B. & Q., at Chicago, yesterday, it was decided to have Vice-president Harris act as the general manager of the road for the present, and it is not improbable that Mr. Harris will hold that office permanently. Resolutions were passed approving the past policy of the board, after which the meeting adjourned.

The local freight agents of the roads centering at Louisville and the members of the Louisville Car Association will be in the city to-day, the guests of the Indianapolis Freight Association and the Indiana Car-service Association, their special mission being to examine into the workings of the weighing and inspection bureau and the Indiana Car-service Association, both of which organizations are looked upon in railroad circles as being model in SCHOOL COMMISSIONERS' ELECTION.

It Cannot Be Held Under the New Law Without a Conflict with Certain Rights.

It is School Commissioner Conner's wish to have the approaching election in the Fifth, Sixth and Ninth school districts held under the new law, but he is of the opinion that it cannot be done. "After providing for the law's application to all other elections," he said yesterday, "the Legislature strangely overlooked the election of school commissioners in Indianapolis. As the law of 1871, providing for such elections, gives the commissioners control of it, there is nothing inconsistent in it regarding the new law. The latter's repealing section destroys only those laws inconsistent with it, and as there has been no conflict heretofore with the general election system, I cannot see how there can be any with the new system. The act of the Legislature empowers the County Commissioners to divide the townships of the county and the wards of the city into precincts containing not more than 250 voters. On the other hand, the School Commissioners are required by the law of 1871 to arrange their own voting districts as they deem adtheir own voting districts as they deem advisable. We are not called upon to fellow ward lines, and the districts as they are now arranged have streets for their boundaries, and take in wards and parts of wards. In some instances a small portion of a ward belongs to one district, while the rest is over in another. You see it would be impossible for the County Commissioners to divide the districts into precincts of not more than 250 voters without conflicting with its division of wards into precincts. The election can-not be held under the Australian law without wiping out the special law of 1871, under which the School Commissioners have supreme control of their own affairs. elections included."

The Propylæum. At the meeting of the board of directors of the Propylæum yesterday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, May Wright Sewall; vice-president, Mrs. F. W. Chislett; secretary, Mrs. Alexander P. Spruance; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth V. Pierce. Chairmen of standing committees were appointed as follows: Supervision of erection of the building, Mrs. Sewall; furnishing and equipment, Mrs. Bates; finance, Mrs. Pierce. A special committee was appointed to prepare a programme for the dedication of the building. in October; and the executive committee was instructed to prepare a schedule

Articles of Incorporation, The Indianapolis Wood Preserving Company was incorporated yesterday with a capital stock of $5,000 in $25 shares. The directors are: Peter Latz, Peter Wagner and Frederick Francke. The Eclectic Med-ical Association of Indiana was also incorporated, with John L. March as president, A. J. CULLINGS FROM THE COURTS.

Progress of Some of the Damage Suits with Which Judges Have to Deal. John M. Bohmie, administrator of Charles Shapley's estate, brought suit a year ago against the Indianapolis Car and Manufacturing Company for $5,000 damages, claiming that Shapley had been fatally injured while in defendant's employ. A jury in the Circut Court gave the plaintiff a judgment for $1,000 damages, but the verdict was set aside by Judge Howland. A second suit was filed by Bohmie, and for several days it has been on trial in Judge Taylor's court. Yesterday the jury returned a verdict for $1,500. In Judge Walker's Court James Jerman was given a judgment for $750 against Charles A. Dale. He had three fingers taken off in Mr. Dale's planingmill. A year ago Forrest Harrison sued Peter Routier and the city for $5,000, claiming to have been injured by the falling of a pile of lumber that had been left on Massachusetts avenue by the defendants. The case was tried in Judge Howe's court, and Harrison was given judgment for $300, but the verdict was set aside. A motion for a new trial was granted, and yesterday morning the case was called. After the jury had been impaneled, the plaintiff's attorney dismissed the case. Fidelia Hodges filed suit, yesterday, against Louden H. Carle, Holman and Sarah Carle for $5,000 damages. She claims she was arrested and tried in the Mayor's court on an affidavit issued at the Mayor's court on an affidavit issued at the instance of defendants, charging her with keeping a dairy within the city limits. She was acquitted, and now sues for malicious prosecution. Gapen's Suit to Recover. The old suit of Philip M. Gapen against the Meridian National Bank was put on trial in Judge Howe's court yesterday. When Gapen was treasurer of the trustees for the Central Hospital for the Insane he had an account as such official with the bank. He claims to have deposited one month $21,543, of which amount he drew out $18,501.94. On Feb. 19, 1889, the bank refused to cash Gaper's checks, although he claims he had a balance of $3,043.06 to his credit as said treasurer. On account of this re-fusal he claims he and the trustees of the hospital were greatly embarrassed and Before Judge Irvin. William Dailey, charged with petit larceny and burglary, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Irvin to the first count of the indictment and the court dismissed the charge of burglary. Lewis Rudisal pleaded guilty to a charge of burglary. Both cases were taken under advisement. John Wyatt, John Dougherty and Walter Milroy, charged with breaking into the Second Presbyterian Church, were acquitted.

Overruled Motion to Quash. Edward Major, of Shelbyville, charged with violating the pension law, appeared in the federal court yesterday, and his counsel moved to quash the indictment against him, which motion the court over-ruled. Major then entered a plea of not guilty. His case is set for trial next Wednesday. He was indicted in connec-tion with Lee F. Wilson.

Notes from the Dockets. Hon. Thomas B. Adams, of Shelbyville, was yesterday admitted to practice in the United States Court.

John Foltzenlogel, a police patrolman, was fined yesterday by Justice of the Peace Feibleman for kicking a boy named John Welsh, who lives on South West street. David Adams was fined $10 and costs by Mayor Sullivan yesterday, for assaulting Samuel Jones. William Abraham, charged with grand larceny, was bound over to the grand jury. Mary Ramsey, the contentious colored woman of Lovely Lane Church, who struck her preacher, was yesterday fined $1 and costs by Justice of the Peace Alford. The case of provoke against preacher Green, the one assaulted, brought before Justice Smock, was dismissed.

CAN'T GET ENOUGH TO DO.

After Taking Gun Wa's Remedies The Grave Yard Candidate Feels Like a New Man.

Seated in the parlors of Gun Wa, the other afternoon, was a young, good looking and intelligent man, Mr. J. W. Elmore, of Clayton, lung trouble, some consumption, some an affection of the mucus membrane of the lungs. They finally, after a consultation, gave me the advice of Hornoe Greely, 'Go West, young man,' so that I would not die on their hands, I suppose; but you see I did not go. I became so ill that I could not do any work, and was, as my friends told me, hoisting myself onward to my own destruction by not taking the doctors' advice. Instead of taking their advice I came to Gum Wa, and on the 22d of last month I began his treatment, and since then I have gained fifteen pounds. I used to be tired all the time, and in the morning when I would wake up I would not feel rested, and would not feel like I could possibly get up, or even move, but after I had been taking your remedies for a short time I could not arise soon enough after waking. I wanted to be up and doing something. I felt like a new man; I felt so vigorous and strong and so much like my former self that I wanted to do all the work about the place.
